

WORLD LANGUAGES • 1.0 CREDIT • FULL YEAR

WL 110 French I

Students build real-world French they can use, with culture from across the French-speaking world. Students take one live elective at a time.

|               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|---------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| CREDIT        | 1.0 credit, about 120 hours of work over the year                                                                                                                                                                            |
| COUNTS TOWARD | World language                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| OPEN TO       | All Years                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| PREREQUISITE  | None                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| HONORS        | No honors                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| LIVE SESSIONS | Once a week in the shared electives slot: a workshop one week, a class discussion the next, held Monday to Thursday within the 9:00 AM–3:00 PM ET school day. Live sessions are recorded for students who can't attend live. |

ABOUT THE COURSE

Novice Mid to Novice High proficiency through daily life, family, school, food and travel themes across France, West Africa, the Caribbean and Québec.

WHAT THE YEAR COVERS

- Daily life
- Family
- School
- Food
- Travel
- The French-speaking world: France, West Africa, the Caribbean and Québec

MAJOR WORK

- Speaking and writing practice in workshops and class discussions
- A culture expo video at the end of the year

HOW THE COURSE WORKS

The course runs from March 1, 2027 to February 2028 in Cycles of two to three weeks. Between live sessions, students work through self-paced lessons and assignments on Abule's learning platform.

Courses are graded A–F. AI tools (chatbots and AI writing, translation, problem-solving and image tools) are not allowed on graded work; ordinary tools educators assign, such as spell-check and calculators, are fine.

Questions about this course? Email info@abule.education.